

7th Doctoral Tax Seminar

28 January 2026 | ZEW Mannheim

Call for papers

The 7th Doctoral Tax Seminar will take place in-person on Wednesday, 28 January 2026 from 9 am to 4 pm at the ZEW in Mannheim. We are planning an exciting day full of research presentations, workshops, and networking opportunities.

There are two ways to actively participate in our seminar. First, we invite submissions for research presentations on any topic broadly related to tax research, including empirical and analytical papers from Business Taxation, Tax Accounting, and Public Finance. You can find the programs of previous Doctoral Tax Seminars here. Second, you can volunteer to discuss a paper.

Please submit your paper (or extended abstract) if you would like to present your research or indicate your willingness to discuss a paper by 1 December 2025 by emailing to svea.holtmann@uni-mannheim.de. We look forward to receiving your submissions.

Additionally, we are happy to announce three (travel) scholarships for this year's seminar. Applications are due on the same date (1 December 2025). You can apply for a scholarship by sending your CV and a short statement (1-2 paragraphs) about why you want to attend our seminar to svea.holtmann@uni-mannheim.de. If you are awarded a scholarship, we will cover your travel expenses and one night hotel accommodation (Tuesday to Wednesday).

Contact

Henning Giese

Paderborn University
Faculty of Business Administration and Economics
Department Taxation,
Accounting and Finance
henning.giese@upb.de

Svea Holtmann

University of Mannheim
Area Accounting & Taxation svea.holtmann@uni-mannheim.de

Georg Thuncke

Max Planck Institute for Tax
Law and Public Finance
[georg-
ulrich.thuncke@tax.mpg.de](mailto:georg-ulrich.thuncke@tax.mpg.de)